Call for Papers

Fellowship of Catholic Scholars
Annual Convention

Doubletree by Hilton
Montreal, Canada
Sept 27-29, 2019

The Fellowship of Catholic Scholars invites paper proposals for the disciplinary breakout sessions of the upcoming annual convention. All scholars are invited to submit a proposal; junior scholars are especially encouraged to submit.

Proposals may be submitted within any one of the disciplines listed below and may cover any theme within that discipline. Proposals should make evident how the presentation relates the Catholic faith to the respective professional discipline. The conference theme this year is “Goodness, Truth, and Beauty…and the Encounter with Evil.” While we welcome papers on any topic, those related to this conference theme will receive special consideration.

- Canon Law
- History
- Literature & the Arts
- Natural Science, Medicine & Engineering
- Philosophy
- Social Science & Psychology
- Theology

Proposals comprising the following elements should be submitted to Fr. Joseph Koterski, SJ at koterski@fordham.edu by June 15, 2019:

1. Title
2. 300-word abstract
3. Author’s name, title, affiliation and contact information

Notification of acceptance will be made by July 1, 2019.

Please note that each speaker is allowed 20 minutes to present in order to allow time for discussion. Presentations should be not more than 3,000 words in length. To enhance discussion, speakers are encouraged to submit full drafts by August 25, 2019 so that these can be made available to conference participants in advance of the breakout sessions.

Please direct any questions to Fr. Joseph Koterski SJ koterski@fordham.edu 718-817-3291
